In developing our 2018 - 2021 Strategic Plan, the staff at Wellness first prepared by re-reading all of the core foundational documents and guiding standards of the field [1], and individually and then collectively derived at the following guiding values and priority areas by highlighting the words and concepts that we believed most accurately addressed the needs evidenced on our campus at this point in time. That groundwork has then guided the remaining development of our goals, strategies and actions that will lead the focus of our work over the next several years. This remains an organic and evolving document, and will be updated and prioritized regularly over time.

Guiding Values:

- Research and assessment, both qualitative & quantitative, guide our services and practice.
- Wellness is holistic and comprised of eight connected dimensions of well-being.
- Wellness is a journey, not a destination, formed by individuals’ life experiences and identities.
- Everyone should be able to reach their fullest potential, be well and thrive.
- Environment and culture influence health and well-being.
- Everyone in the Carolina community plays a role in creating a well campus environment.
- Partnership and collaboration are essential in creating a healthy campus.
- Access to health and wellness resources is integral to personal success and well-being.
- Health & wellness directly impact academic success.

Priority Areas:

- Socio-Ecologic Framework ? all programs/services should map to population, select group, or indicated individuals with largest effort at the population level.
- Metrics-Driven ? continue to operate based on findings from needs assessments and outcome evaluations, mapping to priorities and comparing to priority areas along the way.
- Integration / Infusion ? continued integration and interconnectedness of programs and services to include program development, provision, and
• Communication? increase effective and efficient communications and messaging to students, stakeholders, within office, and with each other through various channels and across multiple learning styles.
• Sustainability? ensure programs and services are as high impact as possible while utilizing as efficient staff and financial resources as possible, engaging in strategic fundraising and grant procurement along the way.

Related Goals:

(Spanning 2018-2021)

1. Maintain, create, and implement evidence-based programs and services that promote positive change in students’ health & wellness knowledge, skills, and behaviors.
   1. Prioritize prevention-focused initiatives across the social-ecological framework for greater population level impact
   2. Address intersections and determinants of key health issues, as determined by data, including but not limited to relationships & sexual wellness, safety & violence, alcohol & other drug use, mental health and well-being, and sleep
   3. Implement peer-education programs that provide high impact opportunities for learning and promote student leadership
   4. Utilize high impact interactive educational strategies to engage students across learning styles, experiences, and identities
   5. Implement continuous evaluation measures to ensure the programs and services are effective and are meeting the needs of students

2. Develop and implement an assessment and evaluation strategy to ensure data gathered are useful, comprehensive, and coordinated.
   a. Gather qualitative and quantitative information about campus as a whole, as well as specific populations to determine need and identify information gaps
   b. Use relevant literature and benchmarking to determine effective engagement and learning strategies for various student groups, faculty and staff
   c. Identify outcome measures for key health behaviors to measure long term and culture change
